Fred Patten of Pomfret Missing-Petition for Executor's Removal-Gift to Beautify Wilkinson Place.

The police of Putnam have been asked and the people of eastern Connecticut may assist in an effort to locate Fred Patten. 14, who left Pomcate Fred Patten. 14, who left Pom-fret Monday evening to come to Put-nam and has not since been heard of. The boy is a grandson of Mrs. H. F. Young of Pomfret Center. It is be-lieved that the quiet life in that sec-tion became irksome to him and that he has gone away to get into a larger town. He came to Putnam on an evening train the night of his disap-pearance.

EXECUTOR'S REMOVAL Asked for By Administratrix of Estate of Ellen M. Carver.

Mrs. Maria S. Prince of Danielson, individually and as administratrix of the estate of Ellen M. Carver, late of Putnam, has filed a petition in the probate court of this town, asking for the removal of Herman G. Carver of Putnam, as executor of the estate of George W. Carver, who died December 25, 1807. It is alleged by the petitioner that Mr. Carver has failed to file his final account as executor in a reasonable time. The matter will corve up for a hearing before Probate Judge Edward G. Wright on April 21.

The petition also sets forth that Ellen M. Carver was named as one of the residuary legatees in the will of George W. Carver; that Ellen Carver died intestate on June 11, 1808, and that the petitioner, Mrs. Prince, is the sole heir and distributee of the estate of Ellen M. Carver; therefore, she is interested in the final settlement of the George W. Carver estate and that hecuse of the delay the slee. at The Boston Dry Goods Store, Dantelson. Some big discounts for our Appreciated Gift to Cargill Falls Park A generous and timely donation to the improvements at Wilkinson place near Cargill falls, was that of J. H. Bowdich of Boston. He wrote G. E. Shaw, offering to give such trees and shrubs as the committee chose to seshrubs as the committee chose to select from his nurseries in Pomfret, and wrote that he had instructed his foreman there Ellery Baker, to deliver the same. George Lowry has been engaged to set them out, which fact will assure the work being properly done so as to get the best results. Arrangements are being made for a substantial ornamental fence which will be placed in position shortly.

Burbank's Carnegie Pension.

Luther Burbank is not cast down because the Carnegite Institute has withdrawn the annual grant of $10,000 to him, which was voted conditionally about five years ago for a period of ten years. He says that it brought a crop of cares, responsibilities, envy, and jealousy, "and personally I have no desire for wealth or fame. A thirst for these is the root of many evils. My ambition has been to leave the world the better for having passed this way. To be misjudged is a passing trifle; to have lost a life of honest labor is a tragedy."

tragedy."

The Koreans never say of one, "he is dead," but "he has returned." They take it for granted that birth is a coming and death a "return" whence one has come. One thinks of the Korean expression upon reading the foregoing words of Burbank. His life has been one of honest labor. In passing "this way" he has rendered great service to his fellow men, those of the present and those of the future, and the world is better for his unselfish life and work. His concluding sen-

Climate and Legislation.

If the 'nation's capital were located in some northern city would it promote mote efficiency in legislation or encourage looseness? The inquiry is idle, but not unnatural. The extreme heat of the ordinary late spring and early summer in Washington is recognized as a deterrent against prolonged sessions of congress. About this time of the year whenever congress is meeting the minds of representatives and senators begin to turn toward adjournment day. by May 15. If he wants congress to adjourn on that date, it is safe to say it will do so. So his prediction is worth some attention. It is evident, however, that if congress is ready to drop work by that date it must either hasten through a mass of important pending legislation in a disastrous eleventh-hour rush, or leave unfinished business that ought to receive attention.
